

UAB Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures
Most Relevant Journals and Presses List
Compiled by the DFLL Faculty, revised Spring 2006

The faculty of the Department revises and expands this list on an annual basis. The list is neither comprehensive nor definitive. Rather, it is intended to serve as a set of continually evolving guidelines regarding where faculty in the Department may publish their work. While this list may be one tool used in the evaluation of the annual performance of individual faculty members, it should not be the sole evaluation instrument. Faculty performance in research will depend on the type of contribution the scholar makes. For the different categories of scholarly and creative work and the criteria used to evaluate them, see pages 7-9 of the Faculty Manual of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures (for a link to this document, consult <http://www.uab.edu/foreignlang/facultyresources.html>). Faculty will judge their own performance in consultation with the Faculty Manual and the Chair.
