UAB EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE AND COUNSELING CENTER STATEMENT OF UNDERSTANDING

Welcome to the UAB Employee Assistance and Counseling Center (EACC). We are pleased that you have decided to use our service. The EACC is a voluntary confidential employee assistance and counseling program. Our service is an employee benefit designed to provide employees and their immediate household members with resources for resolving work-related and personal problems. The EACC provides employee assistance, confidential counseling, community referral, supervisor consultation, crisis management and a variety of educational programs. Licensed mental health professionals provide confidential individual, family and relationship counseling. Our goal is to assist our clients in clarifying issues, exploring options, and finding solutions. Our service is provided as an employee benefit of UAB, UAB Medicine, VIVA and the Homewood School System at no cost to our clients.

Assessment

As a new client, you will meet with a counselor for an assessment. Do not use mood altering substances or bring fire arms or other weapons to your session (this applies to both live and distance counseling). Your counselor will explore with you the reasons that caused you to seek counseling and the goals you hope to achieve. At the end of this session your counselor will suggest an appropriate follow-up plan for you. A follow-up appointment may be scheduled at the end of your assessment visit. Our clinical staff works as a team, consulting with one another, to increase the effectiveness of our service to you.

Should you have questions or need to re-schedule and appointment please call us at; (205-934-2281 or toll free within Alabama 1-877-872-2327) at least 24 hours prior to your scheduled appointment.

Counseling

Counseling sessions are usually 45 to 50 minutes in length. Intervals between sessions will be scheduled depending upon your needs. At times people find that they feel somewhat worse when they first start therapy before they begin to feel better. This may occur as you begin discussing certain sensitive areas of your life. However, a topic usually isn’t sensitive unless it needs attention. Therefore, discovering the discomfort is actually a success. Also, your growth and healing during counseling may shift the dynamics of your relationships.

Couples Counseling

Please note that in couples counseling, I do not agree to keep secrets. Information revealed in any context may be discussed with either partner.

Should you decide to terminate the counseling relationship, we recommend that you consult with your counselor to tie up loose ends and to allow for feedback concerning the counseling process.

Children under the age of 15 may be referred externally for individual counseling unless seen within the context of family therapy.
Scope of Benefit and Eligibility

The EACC provides services for all eligible persons, without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, or veteran status. If it is determined by the clinical staff that an individual’s needs exceed the scope of service or expertise available at the EACC, we will assist you to identify an appropriate referral to meet your needs. Services provided to you at the EACC are a benefit at no cost to you by UAB, UAB Medicine, VIVA and the Homewood School System. The EACC does not pay the costs of therapy or community resources/treatment services to which you may be referred. UAB, UAB Medicine, and VIVA employees and members of their immediate households are eligible for up to 12 sessions each year. Detailed information regarding Homewood School Systems benefits is located on our web site; www.uab.edu/eacc.

Termination Policy

If at any point during the counseling relationship it is determined that you are no longer eligible for our service, are determined to be beyond the scope of the services provided at EACC and/or are not appropriate for the services of the EACC for any reason: Your therapist will make two phone calls, leave you two messages (if you have provided us adequate information and/or written permission to do so), and send you a letter via certified mail informing of that decision.

Confidentiality

We understand that confidentiality is essential to your counseling progress. Our counselors are licensed and/or certified master’s level or higher mental health professional’s ethically and legally bound to maintain your confidentiality. A written and electronic record (date, time, nature of meeting) of your contacts with the EACC will be maintained in a secure manner. Your information is stored via DayBreak.com which is HIPAA compliant and provides a BAA. DayBreak.com uses point-to-point, federal approved, encryption. Any paper with your personal information is kept in a locked cabinet behind a locked door. Your records are kept for a minimum of six years.

Although it is not guaranteed that these methods will prevent 100% of confidentiality breaches, they are designed with the intention of supporting the confidentiality of all clinical communications. Only EACC staff members have access to your clinical record, except as required by law or as described below. Should you need to access your file please contact your therapist. Your therapist will review the file with you and provide a written summary if requested.

Face-to-face sessions in our office are provided behind a closed door.

All video conferencing correspondences will be done through Intercampus Interactive Telepresence System (IITS), which is encrypted to the federal standard.

Limits of Confidentiality

All information disclosed in counseling sessions is strictly confidential and will be released ONLY with your prior written permission, except as otherwise required by law. The counselor’s legal responsibility to disclose information includes, but is not limited to, the following conditions: suspected or known... child, elder or disabled person abuse or neglect, mandatory reporting of health care providers experiencing psychiatric or substance abuse disorders that may present a danger to self or others to their licensing boards, threat of danger to another individual, imminent threat of suicide by the client, legal subpoena to present records to comply with a court order, mandatory state and federal requirements, and in any emergency medical circumstance that requires immediate medical attention. If you received couples or family counseling records require a written release by all parties or a Judge’s order to be released.

Due to the strict adherence to our policy of client confidentiality, we are unable to report suspected cases of sexual harassment in the workplace. If you believe you have a sexual harassment complaint, UAB Policy encourages you to promptly report this situation to the designated official. If you are a UAB employee, contact the UAB Office of Human Resource Management Relations at 934-4458, Room 260X Administration Building, to report sexual harassment. If you are a UAB Medicine, VIVA or Homewood School System employee, ask your Human Resource Office for information on how to report sexual harassment.

Legal Testimony

It is not the practice of the UAB Employee Assistance and Counseling Center to provide legal testimony for Employee Assistance and Counseling Center clients.

Our therapist are not trained as forensic experts so if you know that you will require the testimony of a therapist in a court case please let us know so that we can provide you with a referral to a therapist appropriately trained to represent your best interest in such situations. You will be responsible for a fee of $250 per hour should one of our therapist’s be called upon to provide testimony for you in a court of law. This fee also applies to any travel, preparation, and consultation time required of our therapist as a result of court action. The cost to you for record reproduction is $25 per page.

The EACC does not offer a court approved Anger Management Class. If a client has been court ordered to participate in Anger Management Classes and/or Counseling for domestic violence or any other reason, the EACC may provide counseling only if in addition the client participates in an Anger Management Class elsewhere.

Emergency Contact

If you are ever experiencing an emergency, including a mental health crisis, please call 911, The Crisis Center 205-323-7777, or go to your nearest emergency room.

Supervisory Referral

If you have been referred to the EACC by your supervisor and choose to inform your supervisor you may request a card verifying your attendance at the UAB. If you like any other information shared with your supervisor you will need to sign a specific legal release form.
Professional Relationship

Your relationship with your EACC counselor must be limited to the relationship of therapist and client. If you and your counselor interact in any other way, you would have a “dual relationship,” which could prove to be harmful to you in the long run and is, therefore, unethical for mental health professionals. Your EACC counselor is required to keep your identity confidential. Therefore, your counselor will not address you in public unless you speak first. Your counselor must decline any invitation to attend gatherings with your family or friends. When you complete your therapy your counselor will not be able to be a friend to you.

Due to the nature of psychotherapy, as much as we would like to guarantee specific results regarding your therapeutic goals, we are unable to do so. However, with your participation, we will work to achieve the best possible results for you.

Your Responsibilities as the Client

This service is provided to you as a benefit at no cost to you by UAB, UAB Medicine, VIVA, and Homewood School System. It is your responsibility to attend all appointments as scheduled and on time. If you are unable to attend an appointment, please call 24 hours in advance to cancel, as there are others who need our services. If you fail to keep 2 scheduled appointments without calling to notify us you will need to speak with your therapist regarding continued service or an appropriate referral.

As a client of the EACC, it is also your responsibility to maintain the confidentiality and anonymity of other clients that you encounter while visiting our offices.

If at any point you have questions or concerns regarding your service provider or the counseling process, it is your right and responsibility concerns to discuss those concerns with your counselor.

I have received a copy of the EACC Statement of Understanding, which contains information concerning the EACC and the counseling process, including but not limited to the following topics:

- Intake procedure,
- Counselor assignment and process;
- Scope of Benefit;
- Legal Testimony
- "No Show" Policy
- Termination Policy
- Confidentiality for the counseling relationship
- The Limits of Confidentiality
- Verification of attendance in cases of supervisor referral
- Confidentiality expected of clients towards other clients of UAB Employee Assistance and Counseling Center
- Reporting of Sexual Harassment complaints

Initials
For Clients (outside of the Birmingham area only) Receiving Distance Counseling Only (all others may skip this section and go to the end)

Structure of Sessions

The EACC offers Distance Counseling via face-to-face video conferencing to UAB Medicine and VIVA employees and members of their immediate households located outside of the Birmingham area if their counseling need is assessed as being appropriate for this form of counseling.

Video conferencing counseling sessions are held via (technology provider name/web address). It is recommended that you sign on to your (technology provider name/web address) account at least 5 minutes prior to your session start time. You are responsible for initiating the connection with the UAB EACC at the time of your session.

Prior to beginning Distance Counseling you will need to have an initial video consultation with a UAB EACC staff member in order to verify your identity by matching you with your picture ID. During this initial verification you will choose a passphrase or number which you will used for all future sessions. This process protects you from another person posing as you.

Whenever there is communication that lacks visual or audio cues there is a risk of misunderstanding. When this happens it is important to assume that your counselor has positive regard for you, and to check out your assumptions with your counselor. This will reduce any unnecessary hardship.

Limitations of Distance Counseling

Distance counseling should not be viewed as a substitute for face-to-face counseling or medication by a physician. It is an alternative form of counseling with certain limitations.

By signing this document you agree that you understand that distance counseling:

- may lack of visual and/or audio cues, which may cause misunderstanding.
- may have disruptions in the service and quality of the technology used.
- may not be appropriate if you are having a crisis, acute psychosis, or suicidal or homicidal thoughts.

Emergency Management for Distance Counseling

So that the EACC is able to get you help in the case of an emergency and for your safety, the following measures are important and necessary. In addition, by signing this agreement form you are acknowledging that you understand and agree to the following:

- You will inform the EACC of the location in which you will consistently be during counseling sessions, and will inform the EACC if this location changes.
• You will identify on your client information form, a person, whom your therapist is allowed to contact in the case that your therapist believes you are at risk. You or your therapist, will verify that this emergency contact person is able and willing to go to your location in the event of an emergency, and if your EACC therapist deems necessary, call 911 and/or transport you to a hospital.

Backup Plan in Case of Technology Failure

The most reliable backup is a phone. Therefore, it is recommended that you always have a phone available and your therapist, know your phone number.

If you get disconnected from a video conferencing restart the session. If you are unable to reconnect within ten minutes call your therapist.

End of Distance Counseling only section - proceed to the end of the entire agreement and sign
