Miracles come in all shapes and sizes, places and dreams, but not too many come in mirrored images of oneself. Eleven-year-old Emma Schlesinger was fortunate enough to find her life-saving miracle in her twin sister, Sarah. When Emma was diagnosed with leukemia four years ago, it was her sister’s bone marrow that was transplanted into her little body, offering the miracle the Schlesinger family so desperately needed.

The transplant surgery itself was overwhelming for the family, but similarly disturbing was planning for the long recovery period, which had to be spent in Birmingham, Alabama. Emma’s parents, Tuerk and Debbie Schlesinger soon learned about the American Cancer Society’s Hope Lodge. “When you get there and all your barriers are dropped, you’re no longer female, white, or American, you’re a person that cancer affected and you’re fighting for your life or your family member’s life,” Debbie emotionally shares. “The support you get from each other, you can’t get from anyone else, it’s like a family.” Cancer patients and their families are able to stay at the American Cancer Society’s Hope Lodge free of charge for the duration of their treatment. The Lodge not only helps lessen the financial burden, but it also provides a supportive environment for cancer patients and their families. Emma is now completely cancer-free and looking forward to next year, because the five year anniversary offers hope that the cancer is gone for good.

Your contribution to the UAB Benevolent Fund helps the American Cancer Society continue to provide services like the Hope Lodge and many other important programs.

As a Community Health Charity, the American Cancer Society is the nationwide community-based voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives and diminishing suffering from cancer through research, education, advocacy, and service. Thank you for supporting the UAB Benevolent Fund!
The Literacy Council serves as a clearinghouse for literacy information and referrals. One of the most difficult challenges in the fight against illiteracy is reaching those who are unable to read. The Literacy Council maintains two literacy helplines which serve as a primary point of contact for individuals seeking literacy assistance. To reach those who are unable to read, these helpline numbers (1-888-448-7323 and 205-326-1925) are advertised on television and radio.

Incoming calls for assistance are then referred directly to an appropriate literacy or adult education program in the learner’s community. Other Council efforts include conducting public awareness campaigns designed to keep the crisis of illiteracy in the public eye, training literacy tutors, coordinating services and eliminating duplication of services, and providing funding, books and other resources to local literacy programs in Central Alabama.

One in four Alabamians is functionally illiterate. This means that a person cannot read street signs, prescription bottles in order to take the proper amount of medicine, or even complete a job application. Over 56,000 people in Central Alabama have been able to benefit from the services that The Literacy Council provides. This year The Literacy Council has experienced a 500% increase in requests for assistance to learn to speak and read English, and the most prominent need for ESL tutoring is in our thriving Latino community.

As a United Way Agency, the Literacy Council benefits greatly from donations through the UAB Benevolent Fund. Thank you so much for your support!

Over 56,000 people in Central Alabama have been able to benefit from the services that The Literacy Council provides.

Donors may give to either the General Fund or the Designated Fund. The General Fund is allocated by the Benevolent Fund Council. The Designated Fund is allocated by the donor. Participants in the Designated Fund may select up to three agencies or groups to which they may direct their gift by indicating on their pledge form the corresponding three-digit agency code. Overhead and the EEAP will be funded from both the Designated Fund and the General Fund.

DO DESIGNATIONS AFFECT THE AMOUNT OF MONEY THAT AN AGENCY RECEIVES?
Designations allow you to direct your gift to the agency or agencies of your choice. Designations to an individual Community Health Charities agency do increase the amount that agency receives. The budgeted amount of the pledges to United Way, Community Health Charities and Independent Agencies is determined by the Benevolent Fund Council.

Independent Agencies

Each year the Agency Review Committee, made up of members of the Benevolent Fund Council, reviews applications of Birmingham non-profit organizations that are not affiliated with the United Way or Community Health Charities. Organizations are approved and funded on a one year basis and then rotate off the funding schedule. If you choose to designate your funds to an Independent Agency, please be aware that after a year those funds automatically flow into the Benevolent Fund undesignated account. The donor may redesignate funds by contacting the Benevolent Fund office.
