An Exciting First: Two Harold Amos Scholars in DOM!

Latesha Elopre, MD, MSPH, and Gregory Payne, MD, PhD have earned prestigious career development awards sponsored by the American Heart Association and Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.
Bridges Serves as Guest Editor for Rheumatic Disease Clinics’ August 2017 Issue, “Genomics in Rheumatic Diseases.”

S. Louis Bridges Jr., MD, PhD
Director, Clinical Immunology and Rheumatology
Elson Published in Journal of Immunology

Study brings new insights into the complex relationship between the intestinal microbiota and host immune system.

Charles O. Elson, MD
Professor, Gastroenterology and Hepatology
On the MD Learning Channel:

Sasse discusses aortic stenosis and how the minimally invasive transcatheter aortic valve replacement procedure has helped over 500 patients at UAB.

Mark Sasse, MD
Assistant Professor, Cardiovascular Disease
Kyanam Appointed to American College of Gastroenterology International Committee

Kondal Kyanam, MD
Assistant Professor, Gastroenterology and Hepatology
Free Lunch and Lecture:

Career-Building as a Trainee

A panel of female residents and fellows will discuss the challenges trainees frequently encounter as they begin their careers as women in medicine, including:

- Finding mentorship
- Developing leadership skills
- Identifying a clinical or research niche
- Balancing personal & professional responsibilities

Friday, August 11 at Noon
West Pavilion D