

DEPARTMENT OF PATHOLOGY, DIVISION OF ANATOMIC PATHOLOGY UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA AT BIRMINGHAM

Diagnostic Molecular Pathologist

Asst/Assoc/Full-Professor applications are invited for a Diagnostic Molecular Pathologist faculty position with potential joint service responsibility in AP, CP and/or Informatics. The successful candidate will be American Board Certified in a primary pathology field (AP/CP) with either fellowship training in Molecular Genetic Pathology or a Ph.D. with appropriate training in a relevant discipline. The University of Alabama at Birmingham is an outstanding tertiary care institution currently processing specimens for molecular pathology from surgical pathology, cytopathology, hematopathology and the clinical laboratories under the direction of Dr. Shuko Harada. Genomic sequencing is expanding. The successful candidate will join nearly 80 colleagues in the Department and will be expected to develop a program of clinical, translational and/or basic research and to participate in the myriad of education programs including Molecular Genetic Pathology fellowship training. Opportunities for collaborative research abound. Minimum requirements include an M.D. with a license to practice in Alabama. Salary, rank, and tenure-status are commensurate with experience and background. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment. In addition, physicians and other clinical faculty candidates who will be employed by the University of Alabama Health Services Foundation (UAHSF) or other UAB Medicine entities, must successfully complete a pre-employment drug and nicotine screen to be hired.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter that includes research interest/experience, curriculum vitae, and the names of three references to the attention of Gene P. Siegal, M.D., Ph. D., Robert W. Mowry Endowed Professor of Pathology, Director, Division of Anatomic Pathology, Department of Pathology, University of Alabama at Birmingham, path-aprecruits@mail.ad.uab.edu. All applications will be accepted until position is filled.
