

Executive Education

The UAB Collat School of Business Executive Education Program offers expertise addressing virtually every industry and discipline, and consists of both “off the shelf” as well as customized programs for your organization. We offer public as well as “in house” seminars. We can focus on industry specific disciplines or company specific needs. We address the topics below, but can generate classroom instruction and business consultation on virtually any business topic.

- Accounting
- Emerging Technology
- Employment Law
- Entrepreneurship
- Finance
- Leadership Development
- Marketing & Sales
- Presentation Skills
- Process Improvement
- Professional Selling
- Purchasing & Logistics Management
- Supply Chain Management

To succeed in today's competitive business environment it is imperative for organizations to address the training needs of their employees. Without the inconvenience and expense of sending employees elsewhere, UAB's Executive Education Program can provide the programs and training you need at the facility of your choice, your own business location, the UAB campus, or another site convenient for your employees.

In addition to classroom instruction, we offer research and consulting services such as market and economic analyses, work force planning, organizational assessments and consultations, executive coaching, business plan development, and strategic planning. We can also assist your training department by customizing or designing affordable programs for your company.

We want to be your business partner!

Supply Chain Management (APICS)

APICS Certifications

CPIM and CSCP Certification

The UAB Collat School of Business has partnered with APICS-Bama to provide first-rate operations management education opportunities to the business community. This alliance provides a professional resource to offer CPIM and CSCP certification courses through UAB.

Professional Advancement Through Education

APICS The Association for Operations Management is the global leader and premier source of the body of knowledge in operations management. APICS' certification programs are recognized worldwide as the standard of professional competence in production and inventory management and enterprise resources management.

APICS-Certified Supply Chain Professional (CSCP)

With the industry certification—APICS Certified Supply Chain Professional (CSCP) designation, APICS enhances its validation of the disciplines within operations management, specifically production, inventory, and supply chain management, and the integration of operations within the enterprise.

APICS- Certified in Production and Inventory Management (CPIM)

The APICS Certified in Production and Inventory Management (CPIM) certification provides a common platform for individuals to evaluate their knowledge of production and inventory management. CPIM focuses primarily on manufacturing and provides an in-depth view of materials management, master scheduling, production, planning, forecasting, and quality improvement within the confines of the operation. Building on the depth of the CPIM knowledge, the CSCP certification will take a broader view, extending the CPIM knowledge outside a company's internal operations to encompass all the steps throughout the supply chain—from suppliers through the company to the end consumer—and how to effectively manage the integration of these activities to maximize a company's value chain.
