

RESEARCH SURVEY

for people struggling with opioid use

Researchers at the University of Alabama at Birmingham are inviting adults to complete a survey to better understand the experiences of people who struggle with their opioid use.

to see if you are eligible for our brief, confidential online survey