PUBLICATIONS:

* Indicates student/mentee author. In cases where the first author was a student/mentee, last author denotes that I was the senior author mentoring a student working with me. If listed as senior author, that means I designed and oversaw the study, supervised and trained the student/mentee (either an undergraduate, or graduate student, or a postdoctoral trainee, whose primary mentor was me), and I was largely responsible for the finished paper. In only one case I am the last author, but not the senior author (since the first author was not a mentee; I noted this under that publication in bold letters).
