About the Author

Gail Kriegel's play On The Home Front has been nominated for the coveted Susan Blackburn Award and is having its premiere production at UAB. Her last play, Holy Places was produced in New York at The American Place Theatre and in Chicago at The St. Nicholas Theatre. For her short play, The Prince of Macy's, first presented at The Hollywood Actors Theatre One Act Play Festival, Gail won a Creative Artist Public Service Award and her first play, Rainbow Junction, a musical for children, was given The National Playwriting Award by The Children's Theatre Society and has been produced by many companies throughout the country, on Cable TV in Los Angeles and on WCBS-TV in New York. A native New Yorker, Gail worked as co-producer and artistic director to various small theatre companies before she went back to school. She received her MFA in Playwriting at The City University of New York where she now teaches in the English Department.
