

Request for Applications CCTS Translational Research Deep South Mentored Career Development Program (KL2)

The Center for Clinical and Translational Science (CCTS) Partner Network, is pleased to announce the Mentored Career Development (KL2) Program in Clinical and Translational Science, funded by the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences (NCATS). We are accepting Pre-Applications from junior faculty committed to conducting translational research that addresses *diseases/conditions that disproportionately affect the Deep South. There will be 6 KL2 slots available. Instructions on how to apply can be found at the website listed below.

The mission of the CCTS Mentored Career Development (KL2) Program is to prepare independent investigators to pursue careers focused on translational research. This opportunity will support KL2 Scholars for a period of two years with 75% salary support, up to a maximum of $120,000 annually. Selected candidates must commit a minimum of 75%* of time to research and career development. Our research and training base includes an expansive partnership network spanning three states (Alabama Mississippi and Louisiana), offering a large and diverse pool of experienced mentors.
