Let us know you'll be joining us for Clinical Trials Day this Friday, May 20th!

Whether you are stopping by to grab a Chick-Fil-A biscuit or planning to mark the occasion with a team photo from afar, we can't wait to say 'thank you' to everyone who makes clinical trials possible.

RSVP here to celebrate everyone who is #AdvancingDiscovery through clinical research.

"Envisioning Research Success at Every Career Stage" with Nita Limdi, PharmD, MSPH, FAHA

Pursuing a career in research can be daunting. Whether you are transitioning from trainee to principal investigator, maintaining research funding or growing the portfolio, the uncertainty of grants and fellowships, maintaining work-life balance, and publishing in premium, high-impact journals is challenging at every career stage. Dr. Limdi will share how by combining your excitement with the practical realities of a specific area of inquiry you can build a roadmap for your journey to attain both personal and professional fulfillment.
