The i2b2 $1000 Abstract Contest
Due Date Extended!

A Chance to Get Rewarded for Your Curiosity

Do you have a great clinical research question and just need some data to answer it? UAB’s i2b2 self-service data repository (www.uab.edu/ccts/research-commons/informatics/i2b2 or just search for “uab i2b2”) may be just the resource you need. Once you have found your data and answered your question, share the news with us – you could win $1000 by submitting a one-page abstract describing your findings to the UAB Informatics Institute/CCTS i2b2 $1000 Contest. Submissions are due Friday, November 17th - Sunday, January 7th. For contest details see: http://www.uab.edu/medicine/informatics/faculty-now/i2b2-abstract-contest

Want i2b2 training?

Join us for one of our hands-on trainings with i2b2 to explore using UAB’s electronic health record data for your research data needs! Registration required: www.uab.edu/ccts/research-commons/informatics/i2b2

Questions?

Contact Jim Cimino at ciminoj@uab.edu