Words on the Theme:

“We need men and women to sit down and talk to each other about sex honestly and openly. That would help us fight (HIV) so immediately. But our lack of communication is hugely problematic.”

Emma Thompson, British actress

“I enjoy being the messenger for God in terms of letting people know about HIV and AIDS.”

Magic Johnson

“Give a child love, laughter and peace, not (HIV).”

Nelson Mandela, former South African President

“Everywhere I go, I see very much the same thing. I see the same compassion for people who live half a world away. I see the same concern about events beyond these borders. And, increasingly, I see the same conviction that we can and we must join together to stop the scourge of (AIDS) and poverty.”

Bono

“I lost relatives to (AIDS), a couple of my closest cousins. I lost friends to (AIDS), high-school friends who never even made it to their 21st birthdays in the ‘80s. When it’s that close to you, you can’t really deny it, and you can’t run from it.”

Queen Latifa

“We live in a completely interdependent world, which simply means we cannot escape each other. How we respond to (AIDS) depends, in part, on whether we understand this interdependence. It is not someone else’s problem. This is everybody’s problem.”

Bill Clinton
