This year’s Brain Awareness Week activities were held at McWane Science Center on March 30-April 2. The four-day event provided hundreds of kids and parents with the opportunity to participate in fun and engaging activities that share wonders of the brain—including sheep brain dissections! UAB “realizing its endless potential” as Watts marks 10 years as president

After leading UAB to a decade of unprecedented success across its mission, Ray Watts is UAB’s longest-serving president — with more to come. Read more

UAB-led Neurofibromatosis Clinical Trials Consortium funded for 10 more years

A $25 million award from the Department of Defense will extend funding for the Neurofibromatosis Clinical Trials Consortium for another 10 years. The NFCTC was initially funded in 2006, with renewal funding received in 2011, 2016 and late 2022. The new 10-year, $25 million award comes from the DoD through the Neurofibromatosis Research Program, one of the Congressionally Directed Medical Research Programs. Read more

New study details inflammation in early stages of Parkinson’s disease

The findings indicate that inflammation is present in the brain early in the disease’s progression, but how inflammation affects disease progression remains unknown. Read more

UAB received more than $332 million in research funding from the National Institutes of Health in 2022

For the fourth year in a row, research funding to the University of Alabama at Birmingham from the National Institutes of Health in 2022 exceeded $300 million. The university received $332,830,823, according to the Blue Ridge Institute for Medical Research. That placed UAB 28th in the list of organizations receiving funding from the NIH. Among public universities, UAB ranked 11th. Read more
GET INVOLVED
EVENTS & OUTREACH VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITES
Are you a student or CNC member looking to excite your community about Neuroscience research?
If so, we have several outreach opportunities for you to get involved!
For more information or interest, please contact cnc@uab.edu

Come to Brain Bites to discuss your new outreach opportunity, or to volunteer and help bring the joy of neuroscience to as many people as possible.

If you have an upcoming brain awareness opportunity, please let the CNC know the following:

- What’s the opportunity
- When is it (date, time)?
- Where is it?
- How long do you need volunteers for?
- What expertise should volunteers have?
- Who should volunteers contact? (email? Phone?)?

Email cnc@uab.edu with event details. We will put the details in the next newsletter, and will distribute details at Brain Bites.
