LATEST UPDATES

Changes in Processing Submissions to WCG IRB (Formerly WIRB):

In an effort to simplify the initial submission process between UAB studies and WCG IRB (formerly WIRB), a new checklist document will soon be submitted indicating UAB-specific consent language that will easily identify the appropriate consent language needed for a study and assist WCG IRB in generating a consent from. This will replace submission of a redlined or tracked-changes copy. The UAB Office of the IRB will no longer accept submissions with redline consents.

What do you consider the top four most helpful tools to aid recruitment? Your feedback will guide future issues of Trending in Trials.
