“Surgical Management of OSA: Pathophysiologic Implications”

Saturday, May 15, 2021
8am - 2pm
Zoom

Sponsored by:
University of Alabama at Birmingham
School of Medicine and Division of Continuing Medical Education
In Appreciation

M. Boyd Gillespie, MD, MSc, FACS
Professor and Chair of Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery at University of Tennessee Health Science Center. He is a graduate of Davidson College with a BA in Classics and the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine where he completed residency and fellowship in Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery. Dr. Gillespie earned a Masters in Clinical Research at the Medical University of South Carolina, and is board certified in Otolaryngology and Sleep Medicine.

He was among the first U.S. surgeons to perform salivary endoscopy and has educated many of the surgeons in the U.S. who currently perform the technique. He has published over 140 academic papers including the New England Journal of Medicine study of hypoglossal nerve stimulation for sleep apnea. He is a former Director of the American Board of Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery (ABOHNs) and current member of the otolaryngology section of the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME). Dr. Gillespie is currently Chair of the Salivary Section of the American Head and Neck Society.

In Memory of Dr. Julius N. Hicks

“Through his efforts in patient care, teaching, and scientific investigation, he set in motion processes that would carry us to a position of national recognition and prominence in otolaryngology.”
Glenn E. Peters, MD

On September 6, 2006, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary, Dr. and Mrs. Julius N. Hicks endowed the Ann B. and Julius N. Hicks Lectureship in Otolaryngology to help support education in Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Dr. Hicks directed the Division of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery, from 1985 to 1992. He passed away on January 5, 2009, at the age of 80.

Dr. Hicks earned his medical degree from Duke Medical School and completed his residency at Harvard University’s Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. He joined the UAB faculty in 1960 and retired in 1992. “Dr. Hicks will always be remembered as the driving force behind our program,” said Glenn E. Peters, MD.

This lecturership is a tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Hicks in appreciation for all the personal and professional contributions they have made to the department and to resident education. It continues to provide distinguished guest speakers from throughout the country to assist in the education of the residents.

Mrs. Hicks reunited with Dr. Hicks this year. Ann has been an icon at this annual event and even managed to join us via Zoom last year. We will certainly miss her presence. We greatly appreciate the entire Hicks family’s commitment to our program and will continue to cherish their friendship.
