

The University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) 2024 Partnership Research Summer Training Program (PRSTP)

The University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) invites honors-level undergraduate students majoring in a scientific discipline with an interest in cancer medicine, basic cancer research, cancer health disparities, or similar, to participate in its eight-week Partnership Research Summer Training Program (PRSTP), which takes place in May and July 2024.

Eligible Applicants: We are accepting applications for these paid internships from undergraduate students currently enrolled in master's programs from historically black colleges/universities (HBCUs), minority-serving institutions (MSIs), and UAB. Students will receive a stipend for at least 30 hours per week. All applications must be received by Monday, April 1, 2024, by 5 pm CST.

The overall goal of PRSTP is to establish a program that will encourage interest and facilitate student training in laboratory-based or translational cancer research. Through laboratory attendance and participation in designated seminars, research interns will be able to enhance their knowledge, scientific techniques, in cancer and cancer research. Participants in these programs will become stronger candidates for cancer-related masters, and PhD programs as well as medical school.

The PRSTP will run from Wednesday May 29th - Wed, July 24th, 2024, (8 weeks), and includes three components:

1. Course work: Students will attend weekly noon cancer education seminars provided by faculty.
2. Practical/Lab Training: Interns will be linked with a mentor in their respective fields to work in their laboratory on a cancer-related research project. The student may work on a specific research interest or with an existing data set to identify ideas or proposals for future research.
3. Seminars: Students will attend a two-day Cancer Education Course (June 18-19, 2024, in Medical Towers) as well as a two-day Cancer Research Symposium (CRS) July 23, 24). At the CRS, interns will present a research abstract and poster, summarizing their summer research project and experience. This program will pay for poster printing and to attend the CRS at the Hilton at UAB.

We encourage interested and qualified undergraduate or master's students of all majors to apply. All students are required to complete and submit an application form, write an essay stating their interest in the program, submit a copy of undergraduate and master's transcripts (if applicable), as well as submit two written letters of recommendation.

Although applications must be submitted by Monday, April 1, 2024, I encourage you to submit your completed application early.
