

Thibaut van Marcke

Thibaut van Marcke serves as senior vice president of the Alabama Region, leading the efforts of Orlando Health's recent acquisition of Brookwood Baptist Health. Thibaut previously served as senior vice president of the Orlando Health Southeast Region and president of Orlando Health Dr. P. Phillips Hospital, where he oversaw strategic plans and financial initiatives, while fostering an award-winning positive workforce culture.

Before joining Orlando Health in 2016, Thibaut spent 14 years working for Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) where he served in progressive leadership roles, including as vice president and chief operating officer for HCA - North Florida Regional Medical Center in Gainesville, a 432-bed tertiary hospital, and HCA's flagship hospital in Florida.

He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Richmond and a Master of Health Administration from Virginia Commonwealth University.