Services for Students

Instruction for classes – I provide instruction on library resources, the library website, search strategy, EndNote, APA citation style, at the request of faculty in your SHP courses and programs.

Consultations – I can meet face-to-face with you (one student or a small group of students) to give you focused guidance on using electronic databases, the library catalog, other library resources, library services, citation styles, EndNote or anything having to do with your specific topics and your associated information needs. Contact me directly or use the Lister Hill Library consultation request form - http://www.uab.edu/lister/consult.

Online Students too! - I can also meet with you via phone or virtually using “Go to Meeting.”

Don’t need to meet with me, but have a question? – Feel free to email or phone, or use the Ask a Librarian services at Lister Hill Library http://www.uab.edu/lister/ask.

Library Guides – My colleagues and I create program-specific, course-specific, and subject-specific guides. These can be found on the Lister Hill Library website - http://libguides.lhl.uab.edu/. They contain lots of information about library resources, including “how-to” guides and videos.

Librarian “office hours” – I am very flexible with meeting with students and do not have specific office hours at Lister Hill Library. As long as I am not teaching or in meetings, I am available for appointments. But if you think it would be beneficial for me to have “office hours” somewhere in the SHP building so that I am in close proximity to students, reach out to me and suggest it. If there is a demand for this, I will set up a time and place during the week to be “on-site.”

SHP Student Events – If you feel there are some events at which you think it would be beneficial for me to participate or at least attend, please let me know.
