

MY MASCULINITY HELPS

A FILM BY MARC A. GRIMMETT
DAVID HAMBRIDGE

NOV. 8, 2018 | 6-8 P.M.
Heritage Hall, Room 124

Join us for a documentary and discussion that will explore the role of men in the prevention of sexual violence.

Facilitated by Dr. Marc Grimmert

DR. MARC GRIMMETT

An Associate Professor and coordinator for clinical mental health counseling in the counselor education program at North Carolina State University. He has over 15 years of professional mental health experience working in different settings including university counseling, community mental health, and substance abuse treatment centers, as well as in-home counseling services and private practice. The conceptual framework for Dr. Grimmatt's research is titled R.A.D.I.C.A.L. scholarship, which means Research Action to Deconstruct Institutionalized Cultures and Advocate for Liberation. This framework currently includes four areas of concentration and corresponding goals, which are: preventing gender-based violence through education, activism, male engagement, and community partnerships. Grimmatt is the executive producer, co-director, and co-writer of MY MASCULINITY HELPS.

My Masculinity Helps

A documentary and discussion that will explore the role of men in the prevention of sexual violence facilitated by Dr. Marc Grimmert.

NOVEMBER 8, 2018 | 6-8 P.M.
HERITAGE HALL ROOM 124

Sponsored by: Title IX Office, Office of Diversity Equity and Inclusion, Wellness Promotion, Student Counseling Services, Student Involvement and Leadership, Housing and Residence Life and Student Multicultural & Diversity Programs.