A record 22,080 students, including 2,346 first-time freshmen, were enrolled at UAB in fall 2019.

14 programs in the top 25, U.S. News & World Report 2020 “America’s Best Graduate Schools” list.

$7.15B UAB’s annual economic impact.

1 in 4 Birmingham residents are UAB employees, students or patients.

Only U.S. city on the Travel Channel’s list of 11 “Next Great Destinations” for 2016.

UAB’s campus covers 100 city blocks and is just steps away from top Birmingham attractions, including Railroad Park, Regions Field and nationally famous dining options.

UAB’s campus includes new buildings for the schools of Nursing and Business, the College of Arts & Sciences’ University Hall and a track complex. Protective Stadium, UAB Football’s new home, is projected for summer 2021.

UAB’s School of Medicine is part of an “Elite Eight” of institutions that have grown by more than $100 million in NIH funding over the past 5 years.

UAB’s Women & Infants Center houses the largest regional neonatal intensive care unit (RNICU) in the Southeast.

The UAB Women & Infants Center houses the largest regional neonatal intensive care unit (RNICU) in the Southeast.

$1B The Campaign for UAB surpassed its BILLION dollar goal in November 2018.

UAB Medicine provides care to people in every county in Alabama.

UAB was recognized as a 2019 Diversity Champion by INSIGHT Into Diversity Magazine.

The UAB Women & Infants Center houses the largest regional neonatal intensive care unit (RNICU) in the Southeast.

With 25,000 employees, UAB is Alabama’s largest single employer, and supports 64,000 jobs - one of every 31 in Alabama.

Special freezers developed by UAB engineers are in orbit aboard the International Space Station.

UAB’s Grand Challenge, launched in 2019, has a goal of raising Alabama out of the bottom 10 in national health rankings by 2030.

Birmingham was ranked No. 1 in the U.S., and in the top 12 worldwide, in the 2019 Times Higher Education Young University Rankings.

UAB is one of 7 inaugural NIH-designated Centers for AIDS Research.

Birmingham has more green space per capita than any city of its size in the country.

UAB is a founding partner in Innovation Depot, the largest high-tech incubator in the Southeast, with 100+ startups and 1,000+ employees.

www.uab.edu/didyouknow