Subject: Computer Tip of the Week --If you only ever use your @uabmc.edu email while at work in Medical Towers

If you only ever use your @uabmc.edu email while at work in Medical Towers

QUESTION:

I keep getting emails from HSIS (and others) about “external email access” ... webmail ... OWA ... Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA), with instructions of actions to take.

But ... I ONLY use my @uabmc.edu email while I am here at work in Medical Towers, and have no need to ever check it when not at work.

In other words, I’d never need to look at my @uabmc.edu email on my phone (via the webmail.uabmc.edu website) or from my home computer or from anywhere else off campus.

So, in short, does all that apply to me?

ANSWER:

No, it does not.

(At this point in time, you can ignore completely.)
